CLIENT NEWSLETTER – SEPTEMBER 2014

Whilst the late Autumn good weather meant a slow start to this years ski season there has been some big dumps of snow since and we have had many kids sprouting about their snow adventures but now it's time for Frosty & his snow friends to melt away for another year. Time to pack the Winter woollies away and ready ourselves for some Summer fun!

I recently read the statistics for drowning deaths in Australia for the period July 2012-June 2013 and was disappointed to find that there was a 5% increase from the previous year. Whilst this is a horrible thing to think about it is a serious matter and something we all should be mindful of as we approach the Summer season. The reality is, kids and un-skilled swimmers can drown in any body of water. By applying the four 'Layers of Protection', you can help to prevent drowning tragedies.

Each of Swim Australia's 'Layers of Protection' must be applied together, and include:

- * BE AWARE– Don't let kids out of your sight.
- * BE SECURE– Keep fences and gates locked up tight.
- * BE CONFIDENT– Learn to swim, and how to get to safety.
- * BE PREPARED– Always have a place in case of emergency.
